W. Dunn, Grand Junior Warden, pro tem., and Bro. Hilpot, Grand Treasurer, pro tem.

The Minutes, of Monday, were read and approved.

The M. W. G. M., E. F. Watson appeared this morning and took his seat.

The Grand Secretary submitted his Annual Report, which was read and adopted :

To the Grand Lodge of North Carolina :

Another Masonic year has rolled around and you have again been permitted to meet in Grand Lodge to deliberate upon such matters as may be submitted for your consideration and final action.

I have nothing of much importance to communicate to your body.

I sent three copies of the proceedings of our last communication to these subordinate Lodges which I believed to be at work, and also blank returns, which I hope they have received in due time.

One copy each of our proceedings has been sent to the Grand Lodges of the Southern Confederacy, with Maine and Maryland, and I have received from the following Grand Lodges one copy of their proceedings: Alabama, Georgia, Louisiana, Maine, Maryland—1863 and 1864,—and Virginia, which will, I presume, be submitted to a committee for examination.

Up to this communication I have received from the subordinate Lodges the sum of $2,134.25 for their annual stipends, which amount I have paid to the Grand Treasurer, and for which he has given his receipt.

Respectfully submitted.

W. T. BAIN, Grand Sec'y.

The Committee on Charters and Dispensations made the following report, which was read and adopted :

To the Most Worshipful Grand Lodge of North Carolina :

The committee on Character and Dispensations beg leave to report that they have examined the by-laws, records, &c., of the following Lodges :

W. G. HILL LODGE.—We find the by-laws of this Lodge in strict accordance with the laws of your Grand Body, and its books kept in so neat and business-like a manner as to reflect much honor on its officers. Its work is heartily approved, and we cheerfully recommend they be granted a Charter.

We say the same of Jefferson Lodge, and also recommend a Charter.

STOKESBURY LODGE we find not so perfect. We recommend its by-laws be adopted as amended by the Committee. We find also a fault in their minutes which we fear too many Lodges are now and have been practicing to too great an extent—the making of cases of emergency—and we know of no way to obviate this growing evil unless your body will repeal all laws on its statutes granting such power to sub-Lodges.

But believing their intentions are good, we recommend they be also granted a Charter.

R. V. BLACKSTOCK,

W. W. DUNN.

F. G. FOSTER.

The Report from Franklin Lodge, No. 123, on Education, was read and adopted

FRANKLINTON, N. C.,
FRANKLINTON LODGE, No. 123,
December 2, 1864. }

To the Most Worshipful Grand Lodge of North Carolina :

As representatives of the Masonic Fraternity of Franklinton Lodge, No. 123, we would beg leave most respectfully to report to your body the annual progress and efforts which this subordinate Division of Freemasonry is making in the cause of education, which at this juncture of our country's struggle for national existence recommends itself with peculiar force as the one great and imperative means of filling up the educated ranks, so deeply and broadly swept by the ravages of war, and of transmitting to posterity a national appreciation of our institutions, and civil and political liberties.

As Trustees of Franklinton Academy, we would briefly submit for your consideration, the following, viz: This Seminary of learning is still under the direction of Professor George W. Neal, who brings with an earnest devotion to the cause of letters, a successful experience in teaching for fifteen years in Academic and Collegiate Institutions of this State and the South; students have the important advantages offered of acquiring an experimental knowledge of the Natural Sciences by Philosophical and Chemical Apparatus, and free access to a library for reading purposes; the number of pupils has averaged during this year about fifty, which would have been largely increased, if applicants from Virginia and this State could have obtained board on terms which they could afford to pay; the hand of charity has been extended to children whose parents are unable to meet expenses; the system of discipline is of that parental, yet positive character, which may best develop the physical, mental and moral constitution of students, and make them useful and honorable members of society. We cheerfully recommend for the patronage of brother Masons the educational advantages here offered. All of which we would submit with considerations of high fraternal regard.

S. D. DEVES,	} Trustees.
J. H. WHITFIELD,
WM. F. HILLIARD,
R. S. HARRIS,

WHEREAS, It is the opinion of the Grand Lodge that Lodges working under Dispensation have no right to affiliate members; therefore

Resolved, That all Lodges who have been working under Dispensation be requested to re-ballot on the petition of all members they have received by demit during the period of such dispensation.

Charges and specifications against Bro. J. M. Gore, W. M., of Lebanon Lodge, No. 201, were submitted, and referred to a committee consisting of Bros. W. R. Denne, R. W. Best, E. Malone, S. W. Neal and W. S. Kennett.

The following report from Bros. Martin and Green was read and referred to the committee on Jurisprudence:

To the Most Worshipful Grand Lodge of A. F. and Accepted Masons of N. C. :

In a matter brought to the notice of your Grand body, at the last grand annual communication, by Phoenix Lodge, No. 8, Fayetteville, N. C., wherein complaint was made that St. John's Lodge, No. 1, Wilmington, N. C., had entertained the petition of James O. Bussy, for the degrees in masonry said Bussy being at the time a resident of that jurisdiction, and a rejected applicant to that Lodge. The undersigned having been appointed to enquire into, and report the facts in the case to the succeeding grand annual communication, they beg leave to submit the following as the result of their enquiries: On the 30th day of July, 1863, Mr. James O. Bussy filed his petition in St. John's Lodge, No. 1, for the degrees; the said petition being in the usual form, and as he represents, the words, "a resident of Wilmington," being overlooked, if he read the petition at all. In as much as the said Bussy had been born and raised in Wilmington, and had never, for any considerable length of time, been absent from the place, being at the time engaged in running a steamboat between Wilmington and Fayetteville, it did not occur to the Committee of Enquiry, nor to any member of the Lodge to enquire whether or not he had changed his residence. At the next regular meeting, Mr. Bussy was balloted for and elected, and on the first day of September, 1863, received the first degree. At that meeting, (and the W. M. thinks,) after the Lodge was closed, he was informed for the first time that said Bussy had applied and been rejected at Phoenix Lodge, when he replied that Phoenix Lodge had no right to entertain his petition, inasmuch as he was a resident of this jurisdiction. Still believing that such was the fact, he did not bring the subject before the Lodge, but on the first day of October, 1863, conferred upon him the second degree. Before he applied for the third degree, the subject was brought to the attention of the Lodge, by the action of the Grand Lodge, and his further progress suspended.

Subsequent enquiries developed the fact that Mr. Bassy did consider himself a resident of Fayetteville at the time that he applied for the degrees here.

Your Committee feel assured that St. John's Lodge would not intentionally trespass upon the right of jurisdiction of any other Lodge, or disregard an opinion expressed through the ballots of a sister Lodge, as to the merits of an applicant for the honors of masonry, and that she will cheerfully submit to the decision of your Grand body in the premises.

ALFRED MARTIN,
JAMES FOY GREEN.

Called off until this evening, at 7½ o'clock.

TUESDAY EVENING, 7½ o'clock, }
December 6, 1864. }

The Grand Lodge was called from refreshment to labor.

Grand officers in their seats.

A large representation present.

The report of the committee in the case of J. W. Gore, was read and adopted :

To the Most Worshipful Grand Lodge of North Carolina :

The Committee to whom was referred "an appeal from the decision of Brother J. W. Gore, W. M., of Lebanon Lodge, No. 207, have had the same under consideration, and beg leave to submit the following report :

We have examined the charges and specifications, and accompanying documents, and from all the facts therein set forth, we recommend that the said J. W. Gore be excommunicated from all the rights and privileges of Free and Accepted Masonry, and the Grand Secretary communicate the same to the subordinate Lodges in this State at an early day.

And further, your Committee would recommend that the Most Worshipful Grand Master grant a dispensation to the members of Lebanon Lodge, No. 207, to hold an election for officers for the ensuing Masonic year, at as early a day as possible.

R. W. BEST,
WM. S. KENDALL,
ELLIS MALONE,
S. W. NEAL.

Bro. William G. Hill's preamble and resolutions on a uniformity of work were read, and a motion of Bro. W P Tay, in the same, were postponed until to-morrow morning, 10 o'clock.

The Grand Master submitted his annual address, which, on motion of Bro. Colton, were referred to a committee of three, consisting of Bros. Colton, Felter and Grissom :

GRAND MASTER'S ADDRESS.

To the Members of the Grand Lodge of North Carolina :

Brethren: We meet to-night around the Altar where we have been accustomed annually to congregate, to offer up anew our devotion to the great Author of the Universe.

We meet under circumstances which are peculiar and interesting to every Mason and every patriot of the country.

A great revolution is upon us, and it not only becomes us as citizens, but as patriots and Masons, to give our aid in the great struggle going on for liberty and independence.

The ancient fraternity of Free and Accepted Masons, have nobly sent forth in defence of our country's rights, many of her most valiant sons, who have sacrificed their lives in defence of Liberty, and against the usurpation of a despot and tyrant, and will ever be ready to stand side by side with the bravest of North Carolina's sons in vindicating our rights and our institutions.

Masonry teaches its members that all power is delegated for the good, and not for the injury of the people, and that when it is perverted in any way from its original purpose, the compact is broken, and the right ought to be resumed; that resistance to power usurped is not merely a duty which man owes to himself, to his neighbor and to society, but a duty which he owes to the Great I Am, in asserting and maintaining the exalted rank which he gave him in the creation. This great principle, neither the rudeness of ignorance, can, in the heat of strife, nor the enervation of refinement extinguish. It makes it base for a man to suffer when he ought to act, and, tending to preserve to him the original destinations of Providence, spurns at the arrogant assumptions of tyrants, and vindicates the independent quality of the race of which we are a part.

The wise and well-informed Mason never fails to be the great friend and votary of liberty and justice. He will be ever ready to exert himself in their defence, wherever they exist. It cannot be a matter of indifference to him when his own liberty and that of other men, with whose merits and capacities he is acquainted, are involved in the struggle or revolution to be made, but his attachment will be to the cause and to the country. Yes, the true Mason identifies the honor of his beloved country with his own, and nothing more conduces to the beauty and glory of one's country than the preservation against all enemies of both its civil and religious liberties.

The world, and history, will never willingly let die the names of those noble patriots, who in every age of the world, have received upon their own breasts the blows aimed by insolent enemies at the bosom of their country. Forever will men remember Leonidas, who, with his three hundred brave comrades, held Thermopylae against the Persian myriads. Hannibal, who for Carthage, defied the power of Rome. Cincinnatus, who left his plough and put on the purple and command Rome's armies. Washington, who was "first in war, first in peace, and first in the hearts of his countrymen," and who is endeared to every true American, as the Father of his country. Jackson, Rodes and others, who have fallen in defence of Southern liberty and independence, and thousands of patriots, who, in every age have held their lives to be the property of their country, and of but small account when compared with her interest and honor, her independence and nationality.

He has already lived much too long who has survived the complete devastation and ruin of his country, and the citizen who can enjoy life after such an awful event, deserves not to have lived at all. Nor does he any more deserve to live, who can look contentedly upon such abuses that disgrace, cruelties that dishonor, scenes of misery, destitution and brutalization that disfigure his country, and makes no effort, or use no remedy to prevent either.

It is but seldom a country is at war, nor can every one be allowed the privilege of offering his heart to the enemy's bullets, but in the war now waging against the institutions which are dear to every true Southern patriot, all may come in for a share in the glory. Even the meanest soldier who fought at Bunker's Hill, King's Mountain, Saratoga or elsewhere is a sharer in the glory of those saving days. The same will be the case with those brave patriots who have fallen on the plains of Manassas, Chancellorsville, Gettysburg, and the battles around Richmond, and elsewhere, during our great struggle for liberty, independence and self-preservation; and within the household circle of those brave patriots, the approbation of which approaches nearest to that of an approving conscience, will be looked upon as the true representative of all his brother heroes, in his country's defence, and could tell such thrilling incidents of the different campaigns and battles as would make the tear glisten on the cheek of his companion, and lighten his children's eyes with sparkling eagerness.

But should he unfortunately fall in the thickest of the battle, where every true patriot desires to be, and his place becomes vacant by the fireside and at the table at home, that place becomes sacred, and he is often the theme of conversation in the long winter evenings, and his family is deemed fortunate, among its neighbors, because it had a patriot and hero as one of its members, who has shed his blood, and given his life as a willing sacrifice on the altar of his country.

We, as Masons, my brethren, should remember that life's length is not measured by its minutes, its hours and days, but by that good which we have done therein for our country and our fellows. An idle and useless life is short, if it lasts a century or more, but that of Hannibal was long. The same may be said of many who have fallen on the field of battle during our present revolution, though they have fallen in the spring or at the meridian of life, they have not lived in vain; their memories will be cherished by those yet unborn, and their deeds of heroic valor will shine with resplendent beauty on the historian's page.

The duty of Masons to the Government, is a subject I desire to call to your attention for a few moments, for the reason, that I have recently received a number of communications, from the presiding officers of various subordinate Lodges, relative to a recent organization of a political character, which society, it is alleged by many, is treasonable in its tendency. How far this allegation is true, I am not prepared to determine, having no knowledge in regard to it, except what I have gathered from the political journals of the day.

It is a fact well known to every intelligent Mason, that Freemasonry never interferes with the affairs of Government, politics or religion, but leaves every man's conscience free, no matter whether he be Jew, Christian or Mahomedan. Hence it is, that Masons are to be found in every clime on the habitable globe, all obeying the same landmarks of the order. One of the most positive injunctions given the candidate for admission into our order, and one of the admonitions most frequently repeated is, "to fulfill all civil duties in the most distinguished manner and from the purest motives." This is one of the most positive and binding regulations. In the "ancient charges collected from old records," is the following: "No private piques or quarrels must be brought within the door of the Lodge, far less any quarrels about religion, or nations, or State policy. Being of all nations, tongues, indreds and languages, we are resolved against all politics, as what yet never conducted to the welfare of the Lodge, nor ever will." Again, "Whoever would be a true Mason is to know that by the privileges of the Order, his obligations as a subject and citizen, will not be relaxed but enforced."

He is to be a lover of peace, and obedient to the civil powers which give him protection, and are set over him where he resides or works. Nor can a real Craftsman ever be concerned in conspiracies against the State, or be disrespectful to the Magistrate, because the welfare of his country is his most happy object. No man can be invested with the office of Master of a Lodge until he has signified his assent to those charges and regulations, which clearly point out, the duty of that station and promise to submit and support them, "as Masters have done in all ages." Among other particulars are these: "You agree to be a peaceable subject, and cheerfully to conform to the laws of the country in which you reside." "You promise not to be concerned in plots or conspiracies against Government, but patiently to submit to the decisions of the supreme legislature." "You agree to pay a proper respect to the civil Magistrate; to work diligently, live in credit, and act honorably with all men." Lastly, though of not less importance, every candidate, upon admission into the Fraternity, is thus charged: "In the State you are never to countenance disloyalty or rebellion, but yield yourself, and encourage in others, a cheerful conformity to the Government under which you live."

These are some of the regulations handed down by our ancestors, which should guard every Mason against the most remote possibility of being suspected of disloyalty. Masons, as well as other men, are members of civil society; equally interested in preserving its order and peace. They owe their personal and their associate security to the laws, their protection to the rigid enforcement of those laws. While the true Mason acts within his sphere, he is a true friend to his Government. That is the centre of his circle—the point where his affections are the warmest. His philanthropy is by no means incompatible with patriotism; and when he speaks of being free, and of standing on a level with his brethren, he advances no sentiment in militancy, with social or political grades and dignities. He admits, and is familiar with, the principle of due subordination. He finds his expediency in his own institution, and he knows it is essential to good government and order in the community. "To be free is one of the characteristics of his profession, but it is that steady freedom which freedom feels and wisdom dictates." A freedom which reason, honor and virtue sanctions; a freedom from the dominion of passion and the slavery of vice. The institution of Masonry is founded on love to God, and love to man, whose chief glory is to reward in its numbers those peaceful virtues which are most friendly to their own tranquility, and most beneficent and happy to the world, which declares and repeats to every candidate, and in all its Lodges that it can never countenance anything contrary to morals, religion or the Government; which expects and requires the highest reverence to the Supreme Being, obedience to rulers, respect to superiors, kindness to equals and condescension to inferiors. In this character and conduct may each of us still be known and respected, continuing to "walk by the same rule and mind the same thing." And may your Lodges be beautiful as the temple, peaceful as its Ark, and sacred as its most holy place. May your oblations of piety and praise be grateful as the incense. Your love warm as its flame, and your charity diffusive as its fragrance. May your hearts be pure as the altar, and your whole conduct acceptable as the offering; may the approbation of H. even be your encouragement, and may He "who seeth in secret, reward you openly."

In the present highly prosperous condition of Masonry, there is great danger of the ancient landmarks of the order being violated. During the past Masonic year, I have received a number of communications asking advice in regard to conferring the degrees upon a meritorious class of our citizens; upon men who have spilt their blood in defence of their country, but who have been Unfortunate as to be maimed, some by the loss of an arm, and some by the loss of a foot or a leg. However much we may esteem this highly respectable class of our community, or sympathise with them in their misfortunes, yet without a direct violation of an important landmark of masonry, they cannot be received into the order.

Anderson's Constitution of Masonry, and the old charges as established by him, so far as we recollect, have never been altered or changed in a single particular, by any Grand Lodge, if we except the late attempt of the M. W. Grand Lodge of England to strike out the word "horn," in its connection with "free." These old laws contain all the ancient landmarks proper to be written. To these then, and to these only can we appeal for authority.

We make the following extract from the fourth of the old charges, as collected by Anderson to sustain the position we have taken when written to upon this subject:

"Only candidates may know that no master should take an apprentice unless he has sufficient employment for him, and unless he be a perfect youth, having no maim or default about his body that may render him incapable of learning the art of serving his master's Lord and of being made a brother, then a fellow craft, in due time, soon after he has served such a term of years as the custom of the country directs, and that he should be descended of honest parents, that so, when otherwise qualified, he may arrive to the honor of being a Warden, and then the Master of the Lodge, the Grand Warden, and at length the Grand Master of all the Lodges, according to his merit."

We think any intelligent Mason must see the fitness of the ancient law above quoted. And every Master presiding over a subordinate Lodge should rule, when petitions from this class of citizens are presented, that all who cannot make a Square, Level and Plumb, and all those who cannot fully exercise the three human senses, cannot be received, because they could not be useful in practicing our rites. The law requires that a man shall not be so maimed, or deformed, that he cannot practice and teach the rituals of Masonry. How could the presiding officer of a Lodge teach our rituals, who had but one foot or one hand? How could a deaf or blind man give instructions in Masonry? It must be obvious, they cannot practice our rituals, and hence cannot be admitted into the Fraternity.

I desire to call the attention of the presiding officers of the subordinate Lodges to the subject of non-Affiliated Masons. This has become an evil of such magnitude that I deem it my duty to call the attention of the craft in this jurisdiction to the subject.

Deceased Masons enjoy many advantages over the members of the Lodge. They are released from the operation of the by-laws of the Lodge under whose jurisdiction they live, which requires a regular attendance upon the meetings of the Lodge, the payment of monthly dues, and from the burdensome task of spending night after night in doing the business and work of the Lodge. They are exempt also from a very unpleasant duty, that of trying and punishing disorderly members.—They can, when they feel it their interest, visit the Lodge, return when they please, and then call on the members to do them acts of favor and fraternal kindness, and frequently administer to their necessities.

Frequently we will hear Masons say they have not been in a Lodge for a number of years, and then complain of being, to use a common phrase, "rusty." This subject is of sufficient importance to be enquired into, and a subject on which there should be but one opinion.

Anciently all Masons were required to keep their names enrolled in some Lodge book, and if this great and fundamental law had not been grossly violated, we should not see any non-Affiliated Masons. We again quote from Anderson's Constitution, to show the correctness of the position taken above:

"No set, or number of brethren, shall withdraw or separate themselves from the Lodge in which they were made, or were afterwards made members unless the Lodge become too numerous, nor even then, without a dispensation from the Grand Master or Deputy, and when thus separated, they must immediately join themselves to such other Lodge that they shall like best, or else obtain the Grand Master's warrant to join in forming a new Lodge, to be regularly constituted in good time."

In calling the attention of the brethren to this subject, I am actuated by a desire to see the ancient Constitution and landmarks of the order strictly adhered to.— Upon this depends, in a great measure, the perpetuity of the institution. His landmarks are unchanged, and must be strictly observed, not only by the subordinate Lodges, but by each and every Grand Lodge.

I have granted during the present Masonic year the following dispensations: One for a Lodge at Olin; County Line Lodge, in Davie county; Tabernacle Lodge, in Guilford; Jonesville Lodge in Jonesville, and one for a Lodge at Lenoir, Burke Co.

I have granted the following military dispensations: J. E. Avery Military Lodge, No. 1, 6th N. C. Troops, Hoke's Brigade; Z. B. Vance Lodge, No. 2, 40th Reg't, Heavy Artillery, N. C.; Vance Brothers' Lodge, No. 3, 43rd N. C. Troops, Daniel's Brigade; Lodge in 3rd N. C. Cavalry, No. 4; Chicamauga Lodge, 21st Regiment, No. 5; J. C. McDowell Lodge, 1st N. C. Battalion, No. 6.

All those petitions for dispensations were properly recommended, by the ancient working Lodges, and the Masonic character of the petitioners fully vouched for.

To walk uprightly before God and before man, without deviating to the right or left, is the duty of every Mason, neither as an enthusiast, nor a persecutor, in religion, nor hindering in the least towards innovation or infidelity. In civil government, firm in our allegiance, yet steadfast to our laws, liberties and constitution. In private life, giving up every selfish propensity, inclining neither to avarice nor injustice, to malice nor revenge, to envy nor contempt, in our intercourse, with each other or with mankind, but as the master workman raises his column by the plumb or perpendicular, so should every Mason conduct himself towards the world and his brethren. To such our affections by justice and our actions, by truth is to wear a jewel that might ornament the bosom of the highest monarch on earth. Yet merely to act with justice and truth is not all the Mason should attempt. To love and approve are monuments in the soul of man which gives him pleasure, but to pity or sympathize, gives him heavenly sensations, and to relieve the distresses of a worthy brother or friend is divine.

Hence charity has her existence. She act from a consciousness of man's equality in nature, and knows the level on which mortality was created in the beginning.

Accordingly the Mason indulges sympathetic feelings from the affections of the heart breathing love he has towards his brother. The result of this human judgment induces us to weigh the necessities of our suffering fellow-creatures, and pursuant thereto, we dispense our charities from pure affection.

To be an upright Mason is still to add greater lustre to our character; to do justice to all, and to have charity, are excellent traits in human life, but to act uprightly with all men, but more especially with a brother Mason, gives a superlative degree of excellence to a masonic character; for in acting thus we not only lay examples in religious, but in our civil and moral deportment. In morality it is required of us, not to err by injuring, betraying, or denouncing, but that we should aim to do good, in every capacity, or in every station in life, wherein the Great I Am has placed us. By such means Masonry should be willing to be proved; and thereby testify to the world that the emblematical jewels which he wears, are ensigns only of the inward man or soul; then he will stand with an approving conscience before high Heaven and before his fellow-man, purchasing or meriting felicity to himself as a professor of Masonry, and honor to the institution, of which he is a member.

King Solomon, after the completion of the temple at Jerusalem, carried into it all the vessels and instruments, which was requisite for the service and worship of Jehovah, according to the law of his people. So we, as Masons, as workmen in the great moral duties enjoined upon us and as servants of the great Architect of the universe, have constantly before us those Masonic emblems which remind us of what we are and what is required of us. Virtue is defined by moralists to be "that steadfast purpose and firm will of doing those things which nature has dictated to us, as the best and most salutary—a habit of the soul, by which mankind are inclined to do the things which are upright and good, and avoid those that are evil." In short, virtue is strict, moral honesty, and comprehends good principles. Prudence should characterize the conduct of every Mason; it should be always present to the mind's eye, that his heart may be attentive to her dictates and steadfast in her laws. Prudence is the path which leads to every degree of prosperity and is the rule of all virtue; it is the channel from whence flows self-approbation forever. She leads her followers forth to worthy actions, and as a guiding star enlightens us through the darksome and deary paths of this life. Fortitude is another characteristic of a Mason, by which, in the midst of the greatest calamity or of the most pressing evils, he is enabled to do that which is agreeable to the dictates of right reason. Temperance must also be one of the Mason's most steadfast principles, it being the moderating or restraining of our affections and passions, especially those of sobriety and chastity, and we might include, under the various definitions given it by moralists, honesty, decency and discretion, weakness, charity and modesty.

As a more immediate guide for a Mason, the Lodge is furnished with rules which are enjoining, whereby he can form his conduct. The great Masonic Law Book is ever open before him when in the Lodge, that he may not say that through ignorance he erred. Having laid down in it all the great Architect of the world has dictated to mankind as the mode in which he would be served, and the path marked out in which they are to tread, to obtain his divine approbation. Whatever sacred precepts have been given us, and whatever laws have been recorded by the prophets of old, the same are faithfully recorded and comprised in the Book of the Law of Masonry. This great Law Book reveals the duties which the Grand Master of all, exacts from us. It being open to every eye and comprehensible by every mind, therefore, who among ns that knows not the acceptable service.

And now a parting word to all my brethren. Let me urge you to hold fast to the tradition of our order; preserve immortal the landmarks which have been handed down to ns pure and unimpaired. The great principles of the Masonic Institution are those of truth. They are principles allied to our sacred religion, and are everlasting. They existed when the foundation of the earth was laid, and formed an arch, more magnificent than the firmament with all its glorious "inlay of stars."

We have spoke of Masonry and endeavored to enforce on the minds of our brethren that Free Masonry is one of the most powerful agents of virtue. Every step, every mystery of the order, like "the things hard" to be understood in scripture, are potent witnesses of divine truth. From every dangerous path, and every dark and rugged way, from every solemn vale we penetrate, and from every mysterious sign and word of exhortation. We desire the most lucid and brilliant illustrations of a glorious destiny. Viewed as a moral sermon, it commands our highest esteem, and opens to our mental vision a sublime astronomy, where are seen stars and sun revolving about a great centre in the unseen depths of glory. About that firmament are, no doubt crystal waters. Some spiritual Jordan, in which the righteous Mason may be baptised anew, on their way to the heavenly city. In that beautiful land of light, the soul will find problems of moral science, which it will forever delight to study and yet never solve. There it may be ever telling up the sum of human happiness, and never finding an answer. How incomprehensible then is the mystery of man's eternal progress. No plumb line can sound the depths of mercy, and no compasses can describe immensity, within whose infinite triangle, which will compass forever incomprehensible to the student of celestial geometry.

The Masonic order stands a monument of ancient renown—a massive structure, supported by wisdom, strength and beauty. But if we wish to enjoy real satisfaction in viewing the splendid edifice, we must "go down to its very foundation." We must cross the gulf of time, and go back to the age in which its "stones were known, and visit the graves of the Masters whose hands fashioned and heaved them into their places." Let us often think upon the mysterious and solemn ties which unite us as a band of friends and brothers, and pledge anew our vows of holy brotherhood, and ever walk uprightly before God and man.

Brothers, may you discharge all your Masonic duties with fidelity and honor; that when the events of time shall be ended and the retributions of eternity begin; when the morning stars shall again sing together, and the sons of God shout for joy, may each of you join the animating chorus, and share the glorious triumph. Then you shall be deemed worthy to enter the doors of the celestial temple to be adorned with jewels beautiful with immortality, and advanced to glories, incomparably more resplendant than any here below.

The Grand Lodge called from refreshment to labor.

Past Grand Master A. T. Jerkins appeared, and was invited to a seat in the Grand Lodge.

The preamble and resolution of Bro. William G. Hill were called up, and after some discussion the same were adopted :

WHEREAS, on Friday evening, December 7th, 1860, ostensibly to secure uniformity of work, a resolution was adopted by the Grand Lodge, substituting for "Stevenson's" work (adopted December 5849) "the so-called Prestonian System," as taught by Thomas Smith Webb ;

And whereas, this action, at the close of the communication, when delegates from but thirteen Lodges were present, has failed to hind the subordinate Lodges; since most of them continue to attest, by use, their approval of Stevenson's work; and whereas, this change, hasty and ill-advised, was affected counter to known wishes of a large majority of the delegates to that communication, and mainly through the shred management of one F. N. Porter, accredited representative near this Grand Lodge, from the Grand Lodge of New Hampshire, who being a pedlar of Rob Morris' books, on the so-called Prestonian System, &c., was peculiarly and pecuniarily interested in foisting said work on this Grand Lodge, Therefore, in justice to Ben. Stevenson, and to secure entire uniformity of work for the good of the craft.

Resolved, That said resolution adopted on Friday evening, December 7th, 1860, is hereby rescinded, and the resolution of December, 5846, restored to full force and effect.

WM. G. HILL.

The Committee on unfinished business made the annexed report which was adopted:

To the Most Worshipful Grand Lodge of North Carolina:

The Committee of unfinished business of the Grand Lodge, respectfully report that they have examined the proceedings of the Communication, and find on page 17, in the report of the Committee on Masonic jurisprudence, the following:

"Upon the case which has been reported to your Committee, as having occurred between Phoenix Lodge, No. 8, and St. John's Lodge, No. 1, it has been thought advisable to make no report to this Grand Communication, and request the Most Worshipful Grand Master to appoint a Committee, whose duty it shall be to examine the testimony—each Lodge being represented—and report to the next Grand Lodge.

They also find on page 18, the following:

"The Grand Master appointed brothers Alfred Martin and J. F. Green, as the Committee to investigate the complaint of Phoenix Lodge, No. 8, against St. John's Lodge, No. 1, as recommended by the Committee on Masonic Jurisprudence."

It is evident that the report of this Committee, is order to be presented to this present Grand Communication.

They find nothing else in the proceedings of the last Grand Communication calling for their notice, unless some report is to be expected at this Communication from the Committee on St. John's College. See page —, of the Proceedings, all which is respectfully submitted.

FRANCIS H. WILLARD,	} Committee.
T. M. GARDNER,
J. W. WELLONS,

The annexed report, submitted by Bro. Colton, was read and adopted:

Your Committee has had in consideration the subject matter of the communication from Phoenix Lodge, No. 8, and beg leave to report:

That they deem it unwise that there should be among us so many unaffiliated Masons, the more especially when they desire to connect themselves with Lodges and become active and useful. Many of these Masons are refugees from their former homes, and, owing to the peculiar character of of their departure thence were unable to obtain demits. It is now utterly impossible for them to obtain such demits even if Lodges are working in the Location of their former homes.

We quote a resolution of the Grand Lodge, adopted 5551, as follows:

Now, is a fact well known and generally conceded, that common law does not intend or desire to demand from any one the accomplishment of an impossibility. The ear and eye of the Grand Master is the great beacon of Light to which every true Mason looks. Hence, if the Grand Master, after a careful survey of all the facts, deems it impossible for any brother to obtain a demit, your Committee submits that it is unmasonic that such Mason should longer be kept from the rights and benefits of a true member of the Lodge nearest where he now resides. Further, your Committee venture to express the opinion that it is impossible for any Mason, formerly a resident of any Northern State, or of any city, town or section now, and likely for some time to be, in the hands of the enemy, to obtain a demit; hence, that such Lodge is to him and his brother Masons of this Grand Lodge dormant; and therefore, for the benefit of all such, your Committee beg leave to present the following:

Resolved, That all unaffiliated Masons, refugees from their former homes—which former homes are in the hands of the enemy—may, by application to the Grand Master, and his certifying that, in his opinion, it is impossible for them to obtain demits, by showing evidence of true Masonic conduct, may become active and affiliated Masons in the Lodge where they are now nearest resident by paying the usual fees, and upon showing evidence satisfactory to said Lodge, shall be entitled to all the honors and titles they may have heretofore enjoyed.

CHAS. R. KING,
R. V. BLACKSTOCK.

The Grand officers and delegates in their seats.

The Committee on Military Lodges reported the following Resolution, which was adopted:

Resolved, That the subject of Military Lodges is respectfully referred to the Grand Master for his approval, and the committee ask to be discharged from further duty.

Brother Gardner presented the following resolution, which was adopted:

Resolved, That the addresses delivered on the presentation of the Jewel presented to the Grand Secretary be printed, with the proceedings of the Grand Lodge.

Brother L. C. Riddle presented the following resolution, which was adopted:

Resolved, That the dues from each of the subordinate Lodges working under the jurisdiction of the Grand Lodge, be raised to thirty dollars per annum, from and after this annual communication.

Brother Wm. G. Hill moved that the following resolution, adopted at the communication of the Grand Lodge of 1846, be rescinded, which was agreed to:

Resolved, That from and after this Grand Communication the subordinate Lodges make pay into the Grand Lodge Treasury, as an annual stipend, the sum of fifteen dollars; provided, that no Lodge be required to pay more than one dollar for each of its members.

Brother York submitted the following preamble and resolution, which were adopted :

WHEREAS, This Grand Lodge by a resolution of 1861, recommended the G. M. to issue dispensations to Military Lodges, and whereas the question of jurisdiction has been admitted; therefore, be it Resolved 1st, That this Grand Lodge claim Masonic Jurisdiction over all troops belonging to the State of North Carolina, wherever they may be.

Resolved 2d, That no Military Lodge under the jurisdiction of this Grand Lodge shall have the power to confer the degrees upon any person other than such as by the laws of North Carolina are entitled to vote in the State elections held in the army.

The Report of the Committee on Expulsions and Suspensions read and adopted.

The Committee on Suspensions and Expulsions beg leave to submit the following Report :

1st. In the case of W. J. Jones, Granite Lodge, No. 191, we recommend that he be restored to membership, but be reprimanded in open Lodge. He has been under suspension for more than one year, and we do not think the offence requires an extension of the punishment.

2d. We recommend that the action of Pleasant Hill Lodge, No. 168, in the case of G. M. Cable, be confirmed.

3d. In the case of Hiram Hunter, Blackmer Lodge, No. 170, we think the sentence of the Lodge too severe, it being expulsion, and therefore recommend that the action of the Lodge be reversed, and that he be suspended for one year, at the end of which time he be reprimanded in open Lodge.

4th. We recommend that the action of Dan River Lodge, No. 129, in the case of David Matthews, be reversed, and he be suspended for six months.

5th. We recommend that the proceedings of Mocksville Lodge, No. 134, in the cases of W. Stonestreet and E. M. Godby, be returned for total informality of proceedings.

6th. In the case of W. J. Moberly, George Washington Lodge, No. 174, and N. R. Watkins and F. J. Hartsfield, Rolesville Lodge, No. 156, we recommend that these cases be referred back to said Lodges for informality, and that they be instructed to inquire whether these brothers have been guilty of unmaſonic conduct. These parties were by their respective Lodges expelled for desertion from the army which, in the opinion of the Committee, is a political, and not a masonic offence. While we as citizens, express our entire condemnation of desertion, and disapprove such conduct, whether by masons or the profane, we would recommend that for the future, subordinate Lodges do not attempt to deal with their members on the simple charge of desertion. "Although all the most ancient and universally received precepts of the institution inculcate obedience to the civil powers, and strictly forbid any mingling in plots or conspiracies against the peace and welfare of the nation yet no offence against the State, which is simply political in its character, can be noticed by a Lodge." Once introduce this subject into the Lodges, and open the door for the introduction of politics and religion, subjects which are stringently forbidden to be introduced into Masonry, and we undermine the very foundation of our time-honored institution.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

W. J. STANLEY,
G. B. WATERHOUSE, } Com.
JNO. NICHOLS.

Bro. Salinas presented the annexed resolution, which was adopted :

Resolved, That authority be granted to Saint John's Lodge, No. 1, to confer the Master's degree on Bro. J. O. Boorg.

The Report on the Grand Master's Communication was read and adopted.

Your Committee on the Grand Master's Address beg leave to report :

That the pride and satisfaction of this Grand Lodge must be aroused by the prosperous condition of Masonry, which appears from the Grand Master's Address upon the state of the Order, and that they trust it will continue to grow, not only in numbers, but in perfection of work and purity of morals.

That the Grand Master's remarks urging Masons not to identify themselves as Masons, or in their Lodges, with any secret political order which has been, or may be introduced into this country, are worthy of our most careful attention.

That the subject of non-affiliated Masons is one which merits our careful attention, and some action of this Grand Lodge should be taken in regard to the number of non-affiliated Masons who crowd our towns, do not pay anything for the support of Masonry, and are ever ready to display themselves on public occasions, and when traveling it may be of benefit to them.

The official acts of the Most Worshipful Grand Master meet our approval, and the mild and impartial manner with which he has dispensed the duties of his office is worthy our highest praise.

We entirely concur with the Grand Master in the eloquent manner with which he has portrayed the beauties and benefits of Masonry.

In parting from him, we tender to him, for you, many years of usefulness, and that each recurring year may find him among us in genial brotherhood.

PRESENTATION OF THE MEDAL TO WM. T. BAIN, G. SEC.

Address of Bro. Mackey, Grand Secretary of South-Carolina :

MY DEAR BROTHER:—In a Masonic experience not, it is true, as long as yours, and yet sufficiently long to have afforded me many pleasing reminiscences, I know of none which will, in future years be more grateful to my memory than the transaction in which, by the kind partiality of your Grand Lodge, I have this evening been made an actor. Holding in my own jurisdiction an official position, similar to that which for many years you have so faithfully exercised in yours, I almost feel that I am, in some sort, the participator in the honor which is now bestowed upon you. It seems appropriate that the Grand Secretary of one State should be selected as the agent to express the sentiments of respect entertained by his brethren for the Grand Secretary of another, and a sister jurisdiction. I, at least, am able to appreciate the nature of the labors which, in your official character, devolve upon you—the industry and energy which are required for the faithful discharge of those labors—and the conduct which you must have pursued to have gained that respect and esteem, the evidence of which is this evening demonstrated.

Yours, my brother, must have been a happy life. For nearly a quarter of a century, the Masons of North Carolina have come up together at stated periods to renew their vows around our sacred altar—to legislate for the government of the order in their native jurisdiction—and to adopt those measures which should be conducive to the prosperity and healthy extension of our beloved institution. And at each anniversary they have brought with them the renewal of their respect and esteem for you as their Grand Secretary, and by repeated, unanimous, re-elections have testified their personal affection for you as a man, and their grateful sense of your fidelity as an officer. This long continued demonstration of their confidence is something of which you may well be proud.

When the illustrious architect of the metropolitan cathedral of England had been gathered to his last resting place, no splendid obelisk or stately urn was erected to point out the situation of his grave; but buried in the very centre of St. Pauls, that gorgeous pile which his skill and genius had erected, a plain marble slab alone indicated his tomb, but on its surface was inscribed these memorable words, “If you would behold his monument, look around you.”

So you, too, need no written certificate of your character or of your service. Should any stranger, unacquainted with the industry, energy and fidelity with which, for so long a period, you have discharged the duties of your responsible and laborious office, ask for some evidence of your worth, you too might refer to the respect and esteem which your purity of life has won, and, pointing to these brethren who now, with warm hearts and kindly glances, are gazing on your venerable form, might proudly say, “If you want the testimony of my integrity and my usefulness look around you.”

The medal which the Grand Lodge of North Carolina has ordered to be presented to you contains this significant legend: “We love those who love us: we honor those who have honored us.” Yes, venerable brother, for more than a quarter of a century, you have demonstrated by your words and actions, a warm attachment to our sacred institution, and untiring devotion to its welfare. And now the sons of those whom you first met in our hallowed courts, come up here this evening to return, with grateful feelings, a portion of that love which you lavished on their sires. And the Grand Lodge whom you have honored by the long and faithful discharge of one of the most important offices in its gift, now proclaims by this act in which we are engaged, how highly it honors and esteems the honest man, the upright Mason, and the faithful officer. The bread cast upon the waters, after many days has returned.

In the name and in behalf of the Grand Lodge of North-Carolina, and the craft which it represents, I present to you this medal as an offering of affection. May you long wear it with health, and intellect, and usefulness unimpaired; and when, in the expressive symbolism of our Order, you shall in the pilgrimage of life have passed the Southern and Western gates, unconquered by the temptations which are there, you shall at length have reached the Eastern gate, and there been compelled to yield to the inexorable foe of our race, may death find you like "the widow's son," not unprepared for the great change which will await you. But may your disembodied spirit, called by the Omnific Word of the Grand Master of the universe, from the grave to which weeping brethren shall have consigned you, be permitted to unite with the true and faithful who have gone before you in the eternal refreshments of the Celestial Lodge.

To which Brother Wm. T. Bain, Grand Secretary, replied as follows:

MY DEAR BROTHER MACKEY: I should certainly be guilty of an act of unpardonable ingratitude, if I were to refrain from expressing the feelings of my heart in accepting this beautiful and valuable token of the friendship and fraternal regard which my brethren of the Grand Lodge of my beloved State have shown towards me.

To say that I am thankful only, would be but a poor return for this unmistakable evidence of their kind and generous feelings. Yes, my brother, I can truly say that the gratitude I feel will be cherished in my bosom to the latest period of my life, to remind me of the many and multiplied favors and acts of kindness received at their hands. If I were to say that I have committed no errors in discharging the duties of my office, I might justly be accused of vanity and presumption, but I flatter myself with the pleasing reflection that my brethren will ascribe those errors to the imperfections of my nature, and not from any disposition on my part to shrink from the performance of those duties connected with the office of Grand Secretary.

For more than forty years I have had the honor of a connection with the Masonic Fraternity, and during that long period of time, I have endeavored to promote its interest and to act the part of a useful and acceptable member; and here, I hope, I may be indulged in submitting a few brief remarks on some of the excellent tenets of our Order.

Masonry may with much propriety be regarded as a moral institution, having among other objects a calm and dispassionate inquiry into the origin of man, his destiny on earth and his future state, that it may be ascertained as far as practicable, what he owes to his Creator, to society and himself.

Man was not placed on earth to live for himself alone.

The Author of existence has imposed imperative duties upon us, and we are not obeying the moral law if we fail to discharge those duties faithfully under all circumstances of life.

The cold headed misanthrope may presumptuously inquire what essential duties are made obligatory on us to discharge?

Christianity will readily answer the question by loudly calling upon us to feed the hungry, clothe the naked and to infuse comfort and consolation into the hearts of the afflicted and distressed; and Masonry at all times prompts us to act the Samaritan's part when objects of our pity and commiseration present themselves, claiming our benevolence and charity.

When he is inducted into the mysteries of Masonry, the candidate will readily discover without much effort of the mind, that its principles are closely connected with Christianity. He at once perceives that the degrees he has taken are founded upon that Book which the good and true Mason values above all others, and if he conforms to the requirements it imposes, he cannot fail to act the good Mason's part and receive the plaudits of Heaven.

Masonry may be said to be a language which is understood and spoken by the craft wherever dispersed, and it forms a common medium of communication among our brethren of all nations and tongues. In a strange land the good and true Mason finds, without much difficulty, a home in the hearts and houses of his brethren; and if he is in want, his wants are cheerfully supplied, and his heart is made to rejoice, that, although a stranger and far from home and friends, he is among those who claim him as a brother of the mystic tie.

It cannot be denied that in many ages of the world's existence, kings and princes, with others high in rank and power, have arrayed themselves against our beloved Order, but their wicked and malicious efforts to injure and destroy our usefulness, have fallen harmless at our feet; and we appear on the world's wide stage, clothed in all the majesty of our strength, power and influence. It may be also declared that the shafts of malice and vituperation have been hurled at our very vitals, to impair our energies and defeat our plans, to disperse Christian and Masonic principles among the nations of the earth; but with much pleasure and gratification we can say, that a period in our history has arrived when the tongue of slander and malice has been silenced, and we now stand on firmer and more substantial ground than we have occupied for many centuries past.

In closing these imperfect remarks, I beg to be permitted to return my sincere thanks and grateful acknowledgements to you, my much esteemed brother, for the very kind and flattering manner in which you have been pleased to present this memorial of the undiminished friendship of those much honored and beloved ones with whom I have spent many happy and pleasant hours in by gone days. May prosperity and happiness accompany you and them through life; and when you shall be summoned to exchange time and all earthly things, for a long and never ending eternity, may you all be received into the GRAND LODGE above, where the Supreme Architect of the universe presides in all His glory and splendor, there to enjoy uninterrupted happiness and peace in the haven of eternal repose.

ERRATA.

On page 5, for "the following committee," read "the following committees were appointed."

On the same page, for "M. Felter," read "M. Fetter," and on page 10, the same error appears in this brother's name.

On page 7, Lebanon Lodge is numbered "209," it should have been "207."

Jeffersonville Lodge, on page 8, is superfluous. It was inserted through mistake after the committee on Charters and Dispensation had made their second report. No Lodge of that name was chartered.
